School of Engineering Design, Technology, and Professional Programs (SEDTAPP) Proudly Offers the Following Study Abroad Programs in the Summer:

• Summers by Design: study global product development in Spain, France, or Singapore

• Summer China Program: ENGR 118 Impact of Culture on Engineering in China
EDSGN 297 (3-credits IL) – Spain

Host: Universidad de Navarra (San Sebastian, Spain)

When: May 23- June 3 2017 (tentative)

Extras: Surfing, trip to Guggenheim, trip to France

Contact: Dr. Nick Meisel (nam20@psu.edu)
EDSGN 297 (3-credits IL) – France

Host: Ecole Central de Nantes (Nantes, France)
When: May 8 - May 22, 2016 (Dates TBD for 2017)
Extras: Europe!
Contact: Dr. Conrad Tucker (ctucker4@psu.edu)
EDSGN 397 (3-credits IL) – Singapore

Host: National University of Singapore
When: May 13 – June 1, 2016  (Dates TBD for 2017)
Extras: global product development, amazing facilities, southeast Asia!
Contact: Matt Parkinson (parkinson@psu.edu)
Travel through Beijing, Dalian, Xian, Yichang, Chongqing, Hangzhou, Huangshan, Suzhou, and Shanghai, etc. by five-star cruise, high speed train, soft-sleeper train, and airlines to experience the transportation system in China. Two more days are added to the summer China Program 2017, including one day in Shanghai Disney. 43 students went to China last summer!

Earn 3.0 credits of GS and IL. Internship in China is available if you want to stay longer in China.

For all information and FAQ, please visit: http://sites.psu.edu/china/

Or contact the course instructor Dr. Xinli Wu, E-mail: Xinli@psu.edu.

The application deadline is Feb. 01, 2017 but please apply early and plan ahead!

---

ENGR 118 Impact of Culture on Engineering in China
(May 07 – June 04, 2017)

*Open to ALL students (engineering, non-engineering students, Commonwealth Campuses)