Poker Room

For some it is a form of entertainment, for others it is a source of income. A poker room is about as close to a workspace as a casino will have. Players grind away at these tables for hours on end, often without leaving their seats. A space this heavily used must be visually comfortable so occupants will stick around for the long haul.

Player's Lounge

After a heart pumping gaming session it is necessary to have a space that allows the mind to unwind and the body to relax. A well designed player's lounge can do just that. This lounge allows 45 guests to choose between comfortable couches, chairs, or a place at the bar.

Pre-Function

Before a conference, lecture, or group dinner begins, guests congregate around the multi-purpose room entryways to be the first through the door. A properly designed pre-function space provides a comfortable holding area for these eager guests. Even though it doubles as a circulation space, it must live up to the high design standards which exist in the rest of the casino.
